Sick Pastor Remembered.
 The Metropolitan Baptist church is not in any way nor by any means behind the most leading Baptist churches in Indianapolis and the state of Indiana, notwithstanding the fact that its pastor, Rev. Felix L. Davis, A. B., the worthy and proficient pastor has been sick and unable to come to church and fill his pulpit, for about seven weeks. On last Sunday morning while he and family were preparing for church their hearts were made to feel glad when Deacon and trustee Alex Brown delivered to them a token of the love of some of the members and friends, as follows: flour, lard, chicken preserves, clothes for the children, money and flowers. Yours Respectfully,
 Family

 Splendid services all day last Sunday. The pastor preached a powerful sermon in the morning on the subject "Woman," which was deep and comprehensive in every detail. It had its weight and influence. The afternoon service was exceedingly great. The many beautiful testimonies were much appreciated, after which the Lord's Supper was served. The B. Y. P. U. conducted an excellent meeting, spiritually and financially. Song service at night was enjoyed by many. What are evidences of the sermons that are being delivered by our pastor being effectual, that sinners are announcing their desires for prayers, also their determination to live a better life out of which is hoped a wide-spread return of good will come. We earnestly request all interested as well as disinterested Christians to join us in the work that now confronts us, that we may take the community for Christ.
