

SAVANNAH POLEMARCH . . . Julius Williams speaks to the group assembled for the Bond Tightener.

NU CHAPTER . . . and sweethearts at Purdue University.

Savannah Alumni Chapter Tightens Bond with Undergrads

On May 17, the Savannah Alumni and Gamma Chi Chapters held a Bond Tightener for all brothers in the Savannah area. Forty Kappa men attended the affair arranged by B. C. Ford, Executive Vice-President of the Guaranty Life Insurance Company.

During the social hour, Toastmaster James C. Carthon invited W. V. Winters, who was initiated into Gamma Chapter in 1920, to talk on Kappa of the past. J. R. Jenkins, past Polemarch of the Southeastern Province, gave a short talk about the Brotherhood of the Bond. B. C. Ford spoke on the meaning of the Bond of Kappa. Gerald Hendris, Polemarch of Gamma Chi, had as his subject The Undergraduate Brother. Julius Williams Jr., Polemarch of the Alumni Chapter, spoke of the need for the brothers to get together and work in harmony for the good of Kappa.

John W. Lyons, led the brothers in the Kappa Hymn and the Sweetheart song. The Loving Cup was passed to renew the Bond of Brotherhood for all present.

The Chapter sponsored the membership of fifty underprivileged boys at the May Street Neighborhood Center, of which J. R. Jenkins is Director. These boys were selected by W. H. Ladson, of the Chatham County Juvenile Court, W. H.

Fields and Louis Malone, Chatham County Department of Family and Children Services, and Leroy Varndoe and Jeff Dunbar of the local school system.

The memberships were presented by Polemarch Julius Williams at a ceremony held at the Center. James Carthon presented a clock in the shape of a diamond, to be hung in the lobby.

Savannah State College was given $200 for the Federal Matching Scholarship Fund to help deserving students entering the college.

The annual Black and White Ball was attended by 750 happy guests at the May Street Neighborhood Center on May 23. The decorations were in black and white with a 16 foot mural across the front of the hall, showing the Kappa shield in black and silver with the names of each alumni brother in Old English. The music was furnished by Bobby Dilworth and the Blazers. During intermission the members of Gamma Chi and the Alumni Chapters entertained the guests with songs led by John Lyons.
